FLURRY

The Flurry family forebears came to Jackson County during the Spanish regime and William Flurry, the first member of definite record, signed the "Declaration of Independence of West Florida" in 1810; his land claim bears the date of 1811; he was on the tax roll of 1815 and the census of 1820 but does not appear later. Henry Flurry, the son of William, married Elizabeth Havens, and the descendants of this marriage make up the Flurry group which has furnished Jackson and George Counties with many of their county and state officers. Rev. John Flurry, John

M. Flurry, Henry Oliver Flurry, Elijah Flurry, and Rufus Flurry have been Members of the Board of Supervisors; Abner W. Flurry was a member of the State Legislature; and both Addie L. Flurry and Robert Luther Flurry have been County Superintendents of Education. See lists of county officers for details.

A collateral line to the Flurrys was the Havens line which had for a mother, Susan Flurry, either a sister to or a daughter of William Flurry—traditions differ as to which, but it has always been accepted that they were of double kinship.

NEW YORK (AP)— Using television ads and billboards, the city will launch a multimillion-dollar effort to diversify its predominantly white, male fire department, officials said.

White men make up more than 93 percent of the Fire Department of New York's 11,112-member force, according to figures from December. The department has 300 blacks, 374 Hispanics and 30 women.

"Clearly, we have a long way to go," Fire Commissioner Nicholas Scoppetta said during a City Council committee hearing on Fire and Criminal Justice this week.

The department has hired 620 firefighters since Sept. 11. Twelve of the 343 firefighters who died on Sept. 11 were black, another 12 were Hispanic and all were men.

Scoppetta said the department would spend several million dollars in government and private funds on the effort to hire more women and minorities as firefighters. The program will be launched as early as June.

The message would be carried out on television and billboard advertisements and by

He told me then that he was going to beat the thing and I believed him. He told me he had confronted a lot worse."

Ransom Jones recalled stories of the Bill Jones flying planes in the Navy and landing them on aircraft carriers.

"I can remember riding around town with Bill and he would tell me some of the experiences that he had as a Navy pilot. It wasn't the kind of thing he talked about, you had to pull it out of him," Jones said.

Jones also recalled a conversation that he had with Gov. William Winter in 1980.

"When William Winter was governor, he called and asked me about Bill Jones," Jones said. "He asked me what type of man he was and that he was thinking about appointing him to a judgeship. I told him those expectations," Maples said.

Ransom Jones confirmed that as well.

"I remember when I first came here as a lawyer, that was probably the best law firm in town," Jones said. "They were all straightforward guys and honest lawyers. If they ever told you anything, you could take it to the bank. They mainly worked defense cases at the time but they were all straight arrows. He was a good friend, a good landlord and just a decent guy. He was one of the decent guys."

Jones started practicing law in Pascagoula in 1961 after graduating from the University of Mississippi Law school.

He is survived by his wife, Harolyn, and sons, Tom, Billy and Robert and a daughter, Elizabeth.

all ages for classes, seminars and training sessions.

The alternative school proposal, according to the architects, would be a 9,000-square-foot building costing approximately $648,000. The alternative school is presently housed in the former Junior ROTC buildings on the campus of Oak Park Elementary. Herring said the temporary buildings are in a bad state of repair and it was not cost-effective to repair them.

On the subject of the multipurpose recreational facility, Herring said $200,000 from the previous school bond issue had been set aside as the school district's part for the building that would also serve city recreational needs.

The school board directed Herring to reactivate a special committee to look at the long-range needs of the school district.

Herring said the committee of about 125 will be composed of school staff members, administrators, board members and local citizens.

Flurry Family Has A Fine Reunion At Daisy-Vestry School

The grounds of the Daisy-Vestry High School were the scene of a happy home-coming gathering, on August 18, when nearly three hundred persons assembled for the first Flurry family reunion.

Registration began at ten o'clock in the morning, and at eleven o'clock a short program was given in the school auditorium, with Prof. R. L. Flurry of Wade acting as master of ceremonies. Rev. S. E. Flurry of Ramsay Springs, gave the invocation after a song by the assembly. Abner Flurry, postmaster at Perkinston, made the welcome address, with an appropriate response by Eugene Flurry of the Perkinston schools. Pete Flurry of McComb, gave an interesting history of the Flurry family for four generations back. Addie Flurry of Jackson, M. Cumbest of Wade, and Mr. and Mrs. McNeider of Marvin, Ala., each gave a short talk.

At the noon hour a bounteous picnic lunch was served under the trees, and iced tea was served by Mrs. E. E. Flurry with several assistants. A period of social mingling was then enjoyed, and the families dispersed after having voted to meet again on the second Sunday in August, 1941. Sep 5 1940

Flurry Family Holds
Big Re-Union Sunday

The annual re-union of the Flurry Family, one of the largest and oldest in Jackson County, was held last Sunday at the Daisy-Vestry School. There were more than 200 members of this family registered, coming to the scene from five different states. There were members present from Mississippi, Alabama, Louisiana, Texas and Oregon, and the occasion was one of great interest and pleasure to all those attending.

R. L. Flurry of Wade, chairman of the Flurry re-union, was the master of ceremonies, and presided over the program, which started at 11 o'clock in the morning with all participating.

The program opened with the singing of "America." Invocation was offered by Rev. S. E. Flurry of Ramsay Springs. Short talks were made by Miss Eva Flurry of Hattiesburg, Miss Mildred Flurry of Wiggins, S. E. Flurry and Pete Flurry of Wiggins, A. W. Flurry of Perkinston, Mrs. Julia McNider of Marvin, Ala., and others.

After the program, dinner was served picnic-style, after which several hours were spent as an informal social and the members departed for their respective homes.

R. L. Flurry again was elected chairman of the re-union which was voted to be held again next year, the same time and place.

METHODIST PARSONAGE

The parsonage of the Methodist church in this city is the scene of a very delightful and happy reunion, where the children and daughters-in-law of the pastor and his good wife, Rev. and Mrs. L. E. Alford, are gathered for a family reunion, where love and joy will reign supreme during the Christmas holidays.

Those visiting at the parsonage include Dr. and Mrs. C. B. Alford and baby of Columbia, Miss.; Dr. and Mrs. L. A. Alford of Little Rock, Arkansas; Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Alford of Barksdale, Miss.; Miss Dorothy Alford, a member of the faculty of the High School at Quitman, Miss., and John Alford, from Mississippi State College, Starkville.
